

Media Contact:

Joanne Hansen

(703) 778-6543

jhansen@tribaltechllc.comTribal Tech, LLC Receives Two Honors*The Washington Business Journal's
75 Fastest Growing Companies in Greater Washington List*The Washington Business Journal's
Eagle Award
Sponsored by the American University Kogod School of Business

ALEXANDRIA VA. Nov. 5, 2018 – The Washington Business Journal announced that Tribal Tech, LLC (Tribal Tech) has earned a spot on the 2018 list of Greater Washington's 75 Fastest Growing Companies. To qualify for the list, each company had to be headquartered in Greater Washington, private and independently owned. Companies also had to have revenue growth each year between 2015 and 2017, with revenue of at least $2 million in 2015, and at least $10 million in 2017. They then rank the 75 Fastest Growing Companies by the average percentage growth in revenue over the three-year period. Vicki Vasques, President & CEO of Tribal Tech, accepted the award for the 71st ranking on the list.

Secondly, the Eagle Award, sponsored by The American University Kogod School of Business, which was presented to Ms. Vasques, who accepted the award on behalf of Tribal Tech.

The Kogod School of Business Dean, John Delaney said, "We believe that business is a force for meaningful change. We know that business is a tool for positive impact, a way for communities to improve themselves and the world around them. Tribal Tech is a powerful model of how to leverage business for positive impact. Your work not only shapes the future of our community but offers a platform for meaningful change – in Washington, DC and beyond."

According to Tribal Tech, LLC President & CEO Vicki Vasques, "I am honored that the Washington Business Journal and the American University Kogod School of Business have recognized, not only businesses, but an American Indian, woman-owned small business. It is a tremendous honor to be included on this list. It is equally rewarding to have received the Eagle Award. This award really shows that the hard work of our staff has paid off. You couldn't ask for a better team to go out and do the hard work we do around the country. I am very proud of our accomplishments and hope to continue to serve our clients with dedication and expertise. It is good to see that our guiding principles of "People, Performance and Partnership" are being recognized."

Over the past couple of years, Ms. Vasques and Tribal Tech have received several awards; most notable are being awarded the Small Business Administration's Person of the Year in the Northern Virginia Region and being honored five years in a row on Inc. Magazine's Inc. 5000 list, which means entry into the Inc. 5000 Honor Roll.

ABOUT TRIBAL TECH, LLC:

Tribal Tech, LLC is a Native American, woman-owned, SBA certified 8(a) and 8(m) small business. Established in 2000, Tribal Tech is headquartered in Alexandria, Virginia. As a management and technical services consulting company, Tribal Tech provides a diverse range of services to Native American tribes, federal agencies, and private businesses. Specialized services include Training and Technical Assistance, Grants Management, Indian Affairs, and Communications, Workplace Fundraising and Administration, Outreach and Event Planning. For more information visit <http://www.tribaltechllc.com>.

(end)